PCLC Position Statement

All PCLC schools have an approach that is based on the following key principles:

- Our unconditional positive regard ensures that every young person is highly valued and expected to achieve their potential;
- every young person has the right to be successful and has ability to achieve, no matter what their socio-economic background;
- there is no limit to achievement – intelligence can be developed;
- each student must know what to do in order to improve and how to do it, high expectations on their own are not enough;
- consistency of experience is fundamental; each school is a team and consistency makes us greater than the sum of our parts;
- employment opportunities in PCLC schools should allow all colleagues to inspire a love for learning; not simply process and record what we find.

By ensuring all of actions and decisions adhere to these principles our community members:

- are highly valued and expected to achieve their full potential, no matter what their socio-economic background;
- benefit from an inclusive ethos, excellent teaching and a broad and balanced curriculum underpinned by strong leadership, in a local school;
- are supported and encouraged to lead healthy and active lives making sensible choices, whilst respecting the views and attitudes of others.

ANTI-BULLYING POLICY

Rationale

It is our duty as adults working in school to provide a safe and secure environment for all students. A safe school should be free from violence, should encourage a caring and respectful environment and should be physically and psychologically healthy. We must all strive to uphold this safe environment. Bullying amongst students does, regrettably, take place in all schools and ruins the atmosphere of the classroom and the ethos of the school as well as affecting the bullies and their victims.

This policy should be read in conjunction with the behaviour for learning policy, safeguarding policy, acceptable use of ICT policy.

Definition

Bullying in its truest form is comprised of a series of repeated intentionally cruel incidents, involving the same children in the same bully and victim roles. In a bullying situation there is usually a power difference between the bully and the victim. The bully may be physically stronger/bigger, be able to intimidate others or have the power to exclude others from the social group. The intention of bullying is to put the victim in distress in some way. Bullies seek power.

Anyone can be a target of bullying with any person as instigator, but vulnerable groups include those with SEN and disabilities. People can be bullied as a result of their race, culture, religion, sexual orientation, appearance, home circumstances or for many other reasons which may be real or perceived or due to stereotyping. Adults working in the school are also in danger of being bullied by their colleagues, managers, parents / carers or even the students.

Bullying can take many forms. Much can be dealt with effectively by schools, using their permitted range of sanctions, but some will need the involvement of external agencies, to be resolved. This is particularly true of cyberbullying, where the extent of a school's jurisdiction is, at times, difficult to define.

Physical Bullying

This type of bullying is action orientated and includes hitting, fighting, kicking, extortion of money, or damaging property. This is the easiest form of bullying to identify.

Verbal Bullying

This is where words are used to hurt or humiliate another person. Name calling, insulting, making racist/sexist comments and teasing are included in this form of bullying. This type of bullying is an easy way to inflict on other students and can be very damaging.

Relational Bullying

This is a form of bullying whereby the bully convinces their peers to exclude, isolate or reject the victims from their social connections. It is linked to verbal bullying. This includes indirect bullying behind the target's back and involves rumour spreading and making explicit plans to humiliate someone.

Cyberbullying

This is bullying using electronic media. This includes social media sites, messaging platforms, images, chat rooms, incitement of hatred, trolling, the procurement or distribution of youth-produced sexual imagery, and sites that encourage self-injury and suicide.

Policy Aims

- To educate about the nature of bullying, through the curriculum, and to encourage a safe and secure school environment.
- To prepare procedures for dealing with incidents of bullying.
- To identify specific responsibilities of students, staff, parents / carers and Governors.
- To establish preventative measures.

Policy Objectives

1. We will not tolerate any form of bullying and do not accept that it is an inherent part of school life.
2. We will maintain the teaching of non-bullying behaviours and encourage the practice of respect and tolerance. We will celebrate diversity and raise awareness of different people within our society.
3. Incidents of bullying will be dealt with consistently and appropriately.
4. Victims and bullies will both be supported.

Curriculum

Students are reminded of the policy through the tutor period, ethics and values, assemblies as well as the wider school curriculum and the use of outside agencies to visit the school. Subject teachers are to be alert to classroom behaviour and social interaction between students and will promote acceptable standards of behaviour according to the school code of conduct.

Proactive anti-bullying work involves the promotion of equality and the celebration of difference. This takes place within lessons and in the wider school activities.

Dealing with Incidents of Bullying

There is no single answer to every problem, and no single method can be used to deal with all bullying incidents. The way in which adults react to bullying can make it less likely to happen. A positive open response will encourage young people to speak up about matters of concern and will promote more caring, responsible patterns of behaviour.

How we react to an incident will depend on:

- The circumstances – we need to assess the nature of the incident before we apply a strategy. Group bullying for example is dealt with differently from problems created by one individual who persistently bullies another.
- Ensuring that school policies are used effectively, including the e-safety policy where appropriate.
- The location of the incident, be it a physical or online location. This will necessarily include a consideration of the scale of any audience and the intrusiveness of the actions.

In general, however, the following procedure should be followed:

Record the incident on Arbor and MyConcern at appropriate points in the incident's timeline.

- (1) When a student informs an adult, they are being bullied the report has to be taken seriously.
- (2) Reassurance needs to be given to the victim that the situation will be investigated.
- (3) Report incidents of bullying to the Head of House / Assistant Head of House / Bridge team / SEND team or tutor. This will then be brought to the attention of the Safeguarding Team and if necessary, the Senior Leadership Team.
- (4) This member of staff will speak to victims, alleged bullies and where appropriate, witnesses, to decide the next action.
- (5) All parties are to be listened to and talked to separately or together. Mediation at this point may resolve an issue and the bully needs to understand the victim's point of view. This will encourage empathy.
- (6) Consider the involvement of parents / carers.
- (7) Action will be taken as appropriate.
- (8) Monitor the situation.

Students' Role

Students are advised that:

- Stewards stands against bullying and discrimination.
- Silence and secrecy allow bullies to operate so victims need to speak out.
- They should report an incident of bullying in the knowledge that the information they share will not cause them to lose status in their peer group.
- If they are engaged in any action that they feel may be bullying others, then they should seek help.
- Students have many options of how to report bullying. They can:
 1. Speak to a member of staff they are comfortable with.
 2. Email a member of staff via school emails.
 3. Use external organisations such as ChildLine.
- If a friend is being bullied, students are encouraged to use one of the methods above.

Staff Role

- Stewards stands against bullying and discrimination.
- Teachers need to be vigilant for noticing signs of bullying (e.g. signs of distress, deterioration in work, spurious illness, and desire to be with adults).
- Deal with incidents and not leave them unchallenged. Early intervention is the best course of action.
- Record incidents on MyConcern and / or Arbor, as appropriate, and refer to the appropriate Assistant Head of House or Head of House.
- Be vigilant around school and perform duties and supervision effectively. Be alert to anti-social behaviour and highlight its unacceptability.
- Be available to listen to students who are worried about bullying. Discuss these problems with the house leaders / tutor as soon as possible.
- Follow the protocol (flowchart for dealing with cyber safety incidents). Refer to the e-safety policy for further advice if needed.

Role of Parents / Carers

- Stewards stands against bullying and discrimination.
- On entry, parents / carers sign the Stewards Parent Partnership Agreement which states that parents / carers will support the school in its anti-bullying work.
- Parents / carers are advised to be alert for signs of stress, unwillingness to attend school, patterns of illness, requests for extra money, requests to be taken to or collected from school, unexplained minor injuries, withdrawing behaviour.
- Parents / carers are advised to contact school if they suspect there is a problem. This includes where incidents of cyber bullying are found. This can be done by contacting any member of staff in person, by email or on the telephone; the form tutor is the optimal start point for such communication.
- Parents /carers will be better able to detect the signs of bullying if they take an active interest in their child's schoolwork, homework, by talking about the school day and by monitoring their young person's use of social media and gaming.
- Parents / carers should encourage their children to join in various aspects of school life to make the most of educational and social opportunities.
- Parents /carers should ensure that correct uniform is worn and that their child is not made to feel different in any way.
- Parents / carers of pupils who bully will be contacted about the unacceptable behaviour.

The Role of the Heads of House / Assistant Heads of House

- Stewards stands against bullying and discrimination.
- Head of House/Assistant Head of House should take action over specific offenders in consultation with tutor.
- Head of House/ Assistant Head of House may enlist the assistance of outside agencies.
- Head of House/ Assistant Head of House will monitor incidents of bullying.
- Head of House/ Assistant Head of House will ensure incidents are recorded on MyConcern.

- Head of House / Assistant Head of House and Leadership Team encourage teachers to be aware in their lessons.
- Head of House/ Assistant Head of House will analyse incidents and share proposals for improvement of prevention with the whole staff.

The Role of Local Governors

- Stewards stands against bullying and discrimination.
- To take part in behaviour management process via Governor Panels.
- To support staff and students to combat bullying.
- To monitor levels of bullying, the nature of incidents and the effectiveness of implementation of this policy
- To participate in the review of this document.

Monitoring

- Records of incidents to be kept via Arbor and MyConcern.
- Parents / carers to be asked to co-operate with agreed strategies where appropriate.
- Where possible, an annual anti-bullying survey will be completed and the results analysed. This information will be used to improve practice and inform staff of hot spots and areas of student concern.

Policy Review

This policy will be reviewed annually.

This policy interacts with the following:

Acceptable User Policy in ICT

Disability Equality Policy

Safeguarding Policy

Behaviour for Learning Policy

This policy was approved by the Local Governing Body and is now in line with the PCLC Anti Bullying policy, on the 6th July 2026 and will be reviewed annually.
